

Nashua School District IT Department

Greg Rodriguez
Director of IT

Teaching and Learning

Successfully launched a one-to-one Chromebook campaign

More than 6,000 Chromebooks are now in the hands of students at the secondary level

The District's IT team at each school works with building administrators to ensure that each student has a fully functioning device

Safety and Security

A year removed from the ransomware attack

Uncertainty, denial, and victimhood

What happened?

Who was responsible?

Data was exfiltrated

Data and systems were rendered useless

What did we do?

Worked with administration, City of Nashua, law enforcement, attorneys, forensic and incident handlers

Restored and rebuilt systems from backups through our disaster recovery site

Relied on support from the school community

What We Will do Next?

IT Security

New phone system
